VOL. XXXIX. UPLAND, CALIFORNIA, TUESDAY, JUNE 27, 1933. NO. 15.

BALLOTING TODAY WILL DECIDE MANY IMPORTANT ISSUES

Uplanders Going to Polls in Large Numbers to Aid in Outcome

LIQUOR ISSUE PROMINENT

The News Will Give Reports of Local Result Tomorrow

Voters in the Upland district are today helping California decide several important issues, with the total vote by 7 o'clock tonight expected to be among the largest ever recorded here. Persons can vote up until 7 p. m.

Taking the limelight in interest here are the prohibition question and the tax revision plan, with other measures also having outstanding pro and con leaders. While Upland's vote on the liquor question will be a part of the total state vote, the local outcome is likely to have some effect here. For that reason, leaders on the two sides are active in getting out a large number of voters.

TELEPHONE 29

The Upland News will give the complete local vote on the balloting in today's election to all persons who call tomorrow. Telephone Upland 29 for the Upland figures on the prohibition question, the tax revision plan and other measures on the ballot. After the polls close tonight, a complete tabulation will be made, but as no complete figures will be available until late tonight, no telephone reports will be given until tomorrow morning.

The tax situation as outlined in proposition No. 1 will greatly affect real property owners here and throughout the state. If the measure passes, the county tax rate is scheduled to be sliced in half in the next few years, with an immediate reduction of at least $1.60 in the rate being made.

Of the other measures, legalizing of horse races and gambling, proposed tax exemption of non-profit private schools, unemployment relief bonds and proposed diversion of the gasoline tax funds appeared to be of considerable interest.

Voters were going to the polls early this afternoon in fairly large numbers, with indications that balloting from 5 to 7 p. m. would find many at the polls.

C. E. Members From Mennonite Church Go to Convention

The Christian Endeavor society of the Upland Mennonite church is well represented at the state C. E. convention being held in Long Beach. The convention opened on Saturday evening and will continue through tomorrow, with the annual play-day being held on Thursday.

Several of the Mennonite group, including the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Neuenschwander and children and Miss Helen Lichti, county C. E. president, and perhaps others, are remaining throughout the convention. Others going down, some for the week-end and some for the various other sessions, include Misses Clara, Ruth and Martha Lichti, Henry and John Horsch, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Dettweiler and daughter, Miss Eunice Dettweiler, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Horsch and Betty Ann, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cline and two children, Mr. and Mrs Paul F. Schowalter and son and daughter, Donovan and Marylin, and Dave Dahlem.

Morning Watch Held in San Antonio Park

Beginning a series of such summer services, the young people of the Methodist church held a morning watch Sunday, this taking the place of the usual Epworth League meeting on Sunday evening.

Meeting at the church at 6:30 in the morning, the group motored up to San Antonio park, where the service was held, with 20 persons in attendance. The theme of the meeting was "The Spirit of the Morning Watch," and Dr. Irvin A. Engle was the leader.

After the meeting a picnic breakfast was served and the group returned to the church in time for Sunday school.

Ball Records Given on Tonight's Teams

Who will win tonight, the Merchants or Lemon Growers? Well, here are some figures that will help you get all muddled up if you try to answer that question very definitely.

For example, as a team the Merchants have a batting average of 338, with 26 hits in 80 times at bat, and the Growers' average 315 with 23 hits in 73 chances. Herb Dean, ex-pitcher and center fielder for the Growers, leads the league with a batting average of .714, five hits in seven tries. Otto Gottwald is the best Merchant batter with three hits in five times, 600 average.

As to the pitchers, the records are very, very close. Ray Chandler, Grower chucker, has struck out 20 batters and Jake Voth, veteran Merchant twirler, has whiffed 23. Chandler has allowed only 15 hits and walked four. Voth has allowed 26 hits and walked only two.

With the catchers' records not considered, the two teams have fielded just the same, making only two errors for an average of 978. Bill Dowding, Growers backstop, however, has muffed three chances, thus making the total team average 929. Waldo Scott, Merchant catcher, has made a perfect record.

In other words, where one team has an advantage in one phase, the other team has a better record in another phase of the grand old pastime.

The game will start at 7:45 p. m.

FOREST AREAS TO BE CLOSED JULY 1

Fire Prevention Steps Taken for Holiday and Summer Hazards

Many of the popular sections of San Bernardino forest will be closed to the public over the Fourth of July holiday and some for the remainder of the summer in an effort to prevent fires.

All forest lands in Cucamonga, Day, Etiwanda, Deer and San Sevaine canyon drainages will be closed beginning July 1 and until the fire hazard period ends as the result of orders issued yesterday by J. E. Elliott, supervisor.

Most of the roads, except major highways will be closed in the forest area and on the major highways will be checkers to personally caution the public against carelessness.

Mary Brainard Tent Summer Plans Made

During July and August Mary Brainard Tent, Daughters of Union Veterans will obslerve a partial holiday by holding only one meeting each month. in place of the usual bi-weekly meetings. This plan was decided upon at the recent meeting of the tent held in the American Legion club house.

During the meeting of the tent, of which Mrs. W. M. Stevens is president, plans also were made for the federation meeting to be held in Pasadena on July 30. Several members are planning to attend.

At the conclusion of the business meeting a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served, with Mrs. J. F. Haddow in charge.

July 4th Will Be Observed Quietly

Resorts in the San Bernardino mountains and the southland beaches will attract many Uplanders July 4, while others will remain here for a quiet observance of the day.

This will be the first year that firecrackers have been prohibited within the city and the observance will be "safe and sane" here.

Most of the stores and institutions here will be closed next Tuesday.

Canyon Road Oiled As Aid to Resorts

As part of the program to make the San Antonio canyon resorts in the best possible condition for summer business, the road leading from Ice House canyon to more than a mile above Snow Crest has been oiled.

Willard Carris of Upland, who is superintendent of the county roads in this section, has been in charge of the work.

POSSIBLE USE OF RELIEF MONEY TO BE COUNCIL TOPIC

City Officials Will Convene in Adjourned Session Thursday

MANLEY TO GIVE REPORT

Federal Money May Be Obtained in Construction of Reservoir

For a general discussion of needed city improvements, for a report of a recent meeting in Los Angeles at which City Service Manager Richard G. Manley made an application for a $75,000 loan and for a study of tentative plans for the use of this money if the loan is granted the city council will meet in an adjourned session on Thursday night.

The loan request was for a share of the $3.300.000,000 federal money to be used on public works as an unemployment relief project. If the money is obtained, the city will construct a 5,000,000 gallon reservoir and make improvements in the municipal water distributing system. These proposed local projects are a part of a planned program and under normal conditions would have been constructed within a few years.

Along with scores of others, Upland's application has been filed and it is not definitely known when word will be received of the fate of the request.

If this money is received or if other money is obtained for unemployment relief projects, only Upland residents of at least two or three years time will be employed, this feature being emphatically announced to prevent transcients locating here to share in the money.

The meeting was called for Thursday so the matters could be discussed in the light of today's election results.

Local Odd Fellows Add More Names to Membership Rolls

At a recent meeting of the Upland Odd Fellows lodge, held in the local I. O. O. F. hall, there were present about 40 members of the Orange lodge, who conferred the first degree upon two local candidates and one candidate from Huntington Beach.

The final degrees will be conferred during this week, the two local candidates and members of the Upland lodge going to Chino Wednesday night for the second degree and to Pomona Friday night, when the conferring of the third degree will add two more full-fledged members to the local ranks, aiding in the very satisfactory increase in membership for the lodge during the past six months.

Noble Grand Charles Dinger, whose term of office ends this month, is very much pleased with the activities of the lodge during his incumbency and is appreciative of the excellent cooperation given by all of the members.

The time for the installation of officers will be announced soon.

Hotpoint Employes To Get Higher Pay

Affecting several persons in the Upland district is the increase in wages and salaries at the Hotpoint factory in Ontario. The increase will be effective Saturday. The Ontario plant is a manufacturing unit of the General Electric Co., orders for the increase coming from Bridgeport, Conn.

For several months activities at the Ontario plant have increased and the higher wage scale will be a considerable boost to local conditions.

County Employes Pay Last of Relief Fund

Employees of San Bernardino county have given $8000 to the county as a cooperative effort to relieve unemployment, the last check toward that total being received by the county supervisors yesterday.

Under the cooperative plan, all the employees gave a portion of their monthly salary to the fund, which was used to hire persons who would otherwise be unemployed on various projects in the county.

Regulation of Fruit Shipments Proving Great Aid to Growers

"The Valencia orange stabilization program is already bringing results, especially on loose fruit control, and there is no reason why it cannot continue and have a substantial effect on Valencia returns this season," Paul Armstrong, general manager of the California Fruit Growers Exchange, told a gathering of citrus growers at Chaffey junior college auditorium Friday night.

The meeting was arranged by the Upland and Ontario chambers of commerce at the request of citrus growers and business men for the express purpose of hearing Mr. Armstrong discuss stabilization and present day industry problems.

The speaker outlined the set-up of the prorating program now in effect which was organized by the joint farm bureau stabilization committee and has the support of over 90 per cent of the Valencia crop. A distribution committee determines the quantity of fruit that can be shipped each week, and each shipper agrees to ship his prorated share, thus giving everyone the same relative opportunity on a market maintained by their cooperation.

"The eyes of the nation are now focused on unprecedented efforts to legislate the country into prosperity," said Mr. Armstrong. "As growers and business men you are vitally interested in the new farm relief act, the industrial recovery act and the railroad coordination act. These are all aimed to do what the citrus industry is endeavoring to do by voluntary cooperation. In other words, to stabilize our business, control surpluses and adjust supply to demand.

"These are difficult jobs," said he, "but progress is being made.

GROCERY, MARKET LEASE BUILDING

Room at Corner of Second Avenue and Ninth Street Occupied Soon

The store room at the northeast corner of Second avenue and Ninth street, owned by F. H. Manker, W. S. Avery and W. W. Horak, will soon be occupied by a grocery store and vegetable market. This is the building in which the Rogers Cash Market was formerly located and is one of the best business locations in Upland.

G. A. Harrison of San Bernardino will be the proprietor of the grocery and Cecil Eshelman will conduct the vegetable market. When these firms open for business this will make a complete market in that location again, as the Roste meat market has been doing a nice business there for some time.

Mr. Harrison is an experienced groceryman and is rated as a good business man. Mr. Eshelman has been in charge of the vegetable market in the Piggly Wiggly store in this city for some time, but has now severed his connection therewith in order to enter business for himself. These men state they will install one of the finest stores in the West End, one that will be a credit to the city.

The owners of the building have already begun work on redecorating both the interior and exterior of the building and will also put up new awnings and make other improvements to the property. It is expected the new firms will be ready to open for business in about two weeks.

CALL FOR READING MATTER FOR CAMPS

Books, Magazines, Newspapers and Comics Wanted for Camp Boys

Through the Community Thrift shop arrangements have been made to distribute suitable reading matter to the boys in the civilian conservation camps in this district, it was announced this morning by Mrs. W. J. McCloskey.

Any kind of good reading matter, either magazines, books, or newspapers, will be welcomed by the boys. Detective and adventure stories are always favorites with boys, but good love stories, humorous stories and more serious articles also are read eagerly. Ladies Home Journals and like magazines, Saturday Evening Posts, Libertys, and all other standard publications are wanted, as are newspapers and comics, the "funnies" being in great demand.

The boys, many of them not more than 18 years old, are under strict regulations at the camps and they miss the entertainment boys of that age crave. They are away from home, many of them a long way from home for the first time, and some of them are homesick, although they valiantly deny the charge. Any kind of good reading matter will do much to help them pass the time.

All contributions of magazines, books and newspapers may be left at the Thrift shop and they will be distributed to the camps.

METHODISTS WILL GO TO CONFERENCE

Annual Southern California conference of the Methodist Episcopal church will open Wednesday in Long Beach in the First Methodist church, and a number of members of the Upland Methodist church will be in attendance at part or all of the sessions.

Dr. Irvin A. Engle, pastor of the church, with Mrs. Engle, will attend the entire conference, and E. H. Gibson, elected lay delegate by the congregation, and Mrs. Gibson also will attend all sessions of the conference.

A number of other members of the church are expected to attend one or more sessions of the conference.

Thursday will be a special day for the women's organizations, the Ladies Aid society and the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionany societies meeting on that day in the municipal auditorium, and a large number of the women are planning to be present.

The conference is scheduled to close next Monday evening and the ministers' appointments are expected to be read on that day.

COUNTY MAY GET NEW ROAD MONEY

This Section's Share of Federal Fund May Total $150,000

C. E. Grier, county supervisor, will be in Sacramento Thursday with two other supervisors from Southern California concerning this district's share of the $15,000,000 federal highway appropriation for California under the public works program. John Quinn of Los Angeles county and Tom Hurley of San Diego county and Mr. Grier will represent the 10 Southern California counties.

As tentatively outlined, the total state fund is to be divided equally between the north and the south and the southern portion divided among the 10 counties on the basis of automobile registration. This would mean an approximate sum of $150,000 for this county.

The money would be used in new highway construction, maintenance and improvements as a means of aiding the unemployment situation.

Edgar Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Bailey, left yesterday for Europe, where he will attend the international world jamboree of Boy Scouts at Godollo, near Budapest. He left his home in Ontario for Santa Barbara, where he will join other Scouts in the state going to Europe for the convention. He will return to New York Sept. 2.

TWO CENT STAMPS CAN BE USED FOR UPLAND DELIVERY

New Postal Rates Effective Saturday Are Lower for Local Mail

OUTSIDE MAIL STILL IS 3c

L. N. Kirk Explains Use of Two and Three Cent Postage

On Saturday, July 1, the rate of postage for all first class mail mailed in Upland, addressed for delivery in Upland, California, will be two cents for each ounce or fraction of an ounce.

This means mail addressed for delivery at the local office through general delivery or the postoffice boxes, by city carriers addressed to street and numbers in Upland, by rural delivery and on the star route between Upland and Camp Baldy will go at the new low rate.

Mail addressed to the neighboring cities, Ontario, Claremont, Cucamonga, Alta Loma and Camp Baldy, and all other postoffices will require three cents for each ounce or fraction of an ounce.

The explanation of the new rates was made today by L. N. Kirk, local postmaster, after official orders were received from Washington, D. C.

Walter Dexter Named District Lions Head

Members of the Upland Lions club who attended the district convention at Santa Barbara last week returned here over the week end. Dr. Walter Dexter, president of Whittier college, was chosen district governor for the coming year.

Present from Upland at the convention were Glenn M. Atwood and President Earl H. Johnson, delegates, J. W. Mehl, Robert Stump, Mr. and Mrs. Norman S. Lawson and Mrs. Earl H. Johnson.

Trailer Upset Begins Series of Accidents

A truck and trailer are looked upon as modest creations in this world of modern machinery, but from the disturbance these automotive vehicles caused on Foothill boulevard, just east of the Pacific Electric underpass, they deserve prominent consideration.

Ray Holt, San Dimas, was driving a truck which was pulling a trailer loaded with hay, when Officer C. S. Lehman noted the trailer dangerously swaying from side to side. Holt was given the signal to stop and just as he stopped the trailer swayed and toppled over.

Another truck was called and as it was pulling away from the scene, the load toppled over. Shortly afterwards, Ray Fowler, Ontario, and a passenger, A. F. Forster, Cucamonga, were approaching the scene of the overturned machine, when their car was nicked by another car and was overturned. Mr. Forster and Mr. Fowler were treated at the San Antonio Community hospital for injuries. The group of ditched automotives were eventually removed without further disturbance.

Bethany Union Bible School Ends Session

After a two weeks successful session, the Bethany Union vacation Bible school was brought to a close Friday.

During the two weeks there was an attendance of more than 40 children and the regular Bible school courses were given. The school was conducted under the management of Mrs. J. I. Countryman with a corps of several teachers, mostly older members of the young people's department of the church.

The pupils found the school so interesting they expressed regret that it did not continue longer than two weeks. However, a number of both pupils and teachers had planned to attend the C. E. convention in session in Long Beach.

Including the pupils and the teachers, there was an enrollment of 54 in the school, with the largest day's attendance numbering 50 and the smallest, 42.

The closing session Friday was featured with a special program and treats for the pupils.

Andreas Looking to July 5 Appointment

Appointment of United States marshal for the Southern California district will be made by President Roosevelt July 5 with Godfrey Andreas one of the likely appointees, the local man said today. The appointment will fill the vacancy caused by the death of Al Settle, veteran federal officer.

Robert Clark, sheriff of Ventura county, and Mr. Andreas were among the most prominently mentioned candidates but Mr. Clark has been taken off the list of candidates due to his 70 years of age, Mr. Andreas said.

Prominent Democrats in this county and throughout the southland are known to be working for the appointment of Mr. Andreas and the announcement from President Roosevelt is being awaited with interest.

Mr. Andreas was recently offered a position as a member of the Federal Farm Loan board, but due to his desire to receive the marshal appointment, the Loan Board position was refused.

Francis Wilson Hurt in Night Ball Game

Francis "Squeak" Wilson today has his left wrist in a cast, following an injury he received in the night ball game Friday night between the Upland Merchants and the Etiwanda tea.

In sliding into second base, he injured his wrist, a bone being chipped. He will be out of the game for several weeks.

DR. STONE TELLS OF CARLSBAD CAVERNS

Thrills Rotarians With Description of Wondrous Beauty and Magnificence

We venture the statement that every member of the Upland Rotary club who has not visited the famous Carlsbad caverns of New Mexico today made a vow to do so after hearing of its wondrous beauty and magnificence as told by Dr. R. C. Stone, who last week returned from a visit there and to other places of interest and to the Presbyterian national assembly in Columbus, Ohio. A whole day is required to make the tour of the caverns, with each of the many rooms having a different type of magnificence and beauty. Dr. Stone also told of the interesting manner in which the caverns were discovered by Jim White, a cowboy, and who for 20 years was unable to get anyone to go with him to explore the caverns except a Mexican boy. Now it is one of the most famous places in the world and has been set aside as a national park.

The club was in receipt of a telegram from O. P. Brady, newly elected president of the club, who is attending the Rotary International convention in Boston, in which he stated that more than 6000 Rotarians are attending.

Today was "hospital day" for the club and Dr. A. A. Aita, business manager of San Antonio Community hospital, told of the free bed fund and the sick baby fund of the hospital. In this connection he stated he had never worked with a better auxiliary than the women of this community who are heading this work. The fines today, amounting to about $80, were donated to the sick free bed fund.

Announcement of the annual charter night observance, the big fun event of the year in local Rotary activities, was made and tickets were sold for the event, which will be held at the Woman's club house Tuesday evening, July 11, with dinner being served at 6:30.

Davis Brothers Buy Two Acres Lemons

Two acres of lemons, the trees recently being set out, has been purchased by the Davis brothers, Ollie and Theodore, from the Tioga Water Co. The property is located at the southeast corner of Fourteenth street and Benson avenue.

The transaction was handled by J. L. Messenger of the Empire Realty & Mortgage Co.

Installation of new 20-30 club officers will be held July 11, with final arrangements for the event being made at the meeting of the group tonight.

Jack Korn is president with Lewis Chaney vice-president and Erwin Koch, secretary-treasurer.

60 PER CENT CROP OF NAVELS IN '34 OFFICIAL PREDICTS

J. Fred Anderson Says That Recent Hot Weather Causing Loss

FRUIT DROPS OFF TREES

Decrease in Fruit Likely to Bring Higher Price for Local Product

Sixty per cent of an average crop is the prediction made today by J. Fred Anderson, local horticultural inspector, for the 1934 navels. At this time a year ago, Mr. Anderson made a prediction of about 90 per cent of an average crop for 1933 and the actual marketing of the fruit is proving that the prediction was close.

Mr. Anderson's prediction today on the new crop is the result of his study of local conditions and inspection of local groves in the past few days. The extremely hot weather of more than 10 days ago caused much of the new fruit to dry up and drop. The loss of fruit off the trees in the last week is reported to be quite extensive.

"If all the fruit on the trees now remains, it is likely the crop next year will be about 60 per cent of normal," Mr. Anderson explained, saying that he would make this report tomorrow to J. P. Coy, county horticultural commissioner.

The local citrus official said that blossoms were later than usual due to the general cool spring and when the fruit did appear it wasn't advanced enough to withstand the high temperatures.

As the result of the drop in the fruit, the new crop may be scarce thus automatically causing an increase in the price.

Mr. Anderson said he did not know about the fruit in other districts, but he understood that in some sections the loss has been much more than here. Mr. Coy is reported to have said that the loss is general throughout Southern California and that there will be a shortage of fruit next year.

P. E. Crossing Bells Will Remain Silent at Night, New Plan

As the result of a conference between Edward E. Gray, city attorney, and an executive of the Pacific Electric Railway Co., local people will not be annoyed by the continuous ringing of the railway company's warning bells at the various intersections during the night.

At least, if the bells do ring unusually long at night something will have gone wrong and local people, Mr. Gray said, are asked to call L. O. Bowman, Third avenue. Persons residing in the vicinity of the P. E. tracks have reported that frequently the crossing bells ring for several hours without stopping while freight cars were being switched. This fact was called to the attention of the company authorities and the employees have been asked to so handle the trains as to avoid the long ringing of the bells. In case the annoyance occurs in the future, a report to Mr. Bowman "at any hour of the night," Mr. Gray said, will result in the bell being stopped.

Four Uplanders Are Chosen as Jurors

Names of four Uplanders are on the jury panel for the county superior courts during the next two months. They are, C. A. Bauerlen, D. J. Burlingame, Roy Franklin and Dale Richardson. Seventy-five names were drawn.

Those from Ontario are D. D. Crew, Harry Allen, Mrs. Edith Richardson, C. M. Huston, C. E. Mead, Willis M. Odom, Charles Houghton and G. E. McQuatters.

P.-T. A. Study Circle To Meet Wednesday

No Doubt About It—Business Is Reviving

There now seems no doubt about it—business revival is going on. New life has been instilled in practically every line of industry—and the mental attitude of our people has changed from one of pessimism and despondency to that of optimism and hope. The San Bernardino Sun comments editorially as follows:

"The business improvement coming so spectacularly after the long wait seems too good to be true. Millions are asking whether it is real.

"One man's guess is about as good as another's—if he reads the papers and keeps up with rushing events. The most impressive facts lately have been these:

"The motor industry, credited with pulling us out of the last two depressions, seems now to have tackled this one. The automotive region extending from lower Michigan through Ohio and western Pennsylvania, hardest hit by the depression of all our industrial areas, is humming now with activity. Cars are being made and sold in steadily increasing quantity, the gain continuing into the summer season when there is usually a loss.

"The situation from this source has set the steel industry upon its feet. In every steel town the furnaces are smoking and the mills roaring again. The magazine Steel says 'more material is moving into Michigan automobile centers than at any time since the spring of 1931. The June output will exceed May by a good margin, and July promises to equal June.'

"Next to motors, the most potent industry, in its widespread effects, has usually been building construction. After long prostration, it joins motors in the demand for steel, reopens the cement plants and stimulates lumber, brick, glass and many other industries.

"Revenue freight car loadings for the week ended June 17 were 587,31 cars, an increase of 23,385 over the preceding week, and 69,533 more than in the corresponding week last year.

"Net operating income of the first 12 railroads to report May earnings was $9,777,000 compared with $4,862,000 in May, 1932, an increase of 101 per cent.

"If this sort of activity grows, or even holds its own, during the summer, there should be a grand industrial chorus of re-opened factories next fall."

Thus it is demonstrated—as we have often repeated in this column—that one line of industry cannot possibly experience improvement, or the opposite, without affecting many other lines similarly. For some years now adverse conditions have prevailed. People cut down in their buying and thus men were thrown out of employment because there was decreased demand for the commodities of all kinds. Now the opposite and better condition is proving true. The automobile industry is a splendid example of what we mean. The manufacturers of cars and trucks put thousands of men to work making new automobiles. Thus the steel industry is started humming and other lines are similarly affected. Men employed in these lines must eat, wear clothes and also demand other necessities, comforts and luxuries—and are enabled to increase their buying power. Thus it is forcefully demonstrated that when one industry prospers others are bound to be favorably affected. And that's the reason we are getting happier every day.

And with conditions improving we will see the exit of the chiseler. For three years or more the American people have been chiseling, chiseling, chiseling—demanding something cheaper, cheaper, cheaper all the time. The result could not help being an immense amount of shoddy merchandise being manufactured and placed on the market. This was another cause of falling prices—and everyone knows what was the result. Industries withered—manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers being affected alike. Buying power shrunk and the very thing that was supposed to create more business produced the very opposite effect.

Now the picture is also changed in that regard. People are beginning to buy more—and they are also demanding something better than the shoddy stuff which has flooded the markets the past few years. Wage increases have been experienced in many lines and the American people are being thrilled at the improvement which is gradually coming. We are realizing more than ever it is not cutting down on employes and prices that makes for prosperity, but the very opposite is true. And we are all realizing that one industry cannot prosper unless others go along with it. That's the goal we are now headed for again—and we're on the way.

It was somewhat of a shock to the citizens of the state when Governor Rolph vetoed the bill calling for reductions in state salaries. It was all the more a surprise to learn this after a large per cent of state employes had voluntarily agreed to accept a salary cut and expected it. And why shouldn't they—when practically everybody has had their pay cut one or more times during the past year or two? Not only have employes taken cuts in pay, but employers in most instances have taken greater reductions in their income than those who are in their employ. Wage cuts were inevitable if business was to survive the times. The governor argues that now is no time to cut salaries and wages. Perhaps it might not be if the state employes had previously taken cuts along with those in all lines of industry. Had the governor signed the bill it would have meant a saving of $5,000,000 per year to the taxpayers of the state. They are entitled to this relief—not only entitled to it, but many of them are greatly in need of whatever relief they can get.

Now, if the government is really going to stop the price cutting stuff we suggest that they stop printing and selling envelopes for less than cost—and let the printer have a chance at some work that he is really entitled to. And there are other lines of business who are entitled to the same consideration. It wouldn't be a bad idea if Uncle Sam began cutting out the price cutting right in Washington. A good example, like charity, should begin at home.

—o—

Is there propaganda abroad in the world of moving pictures against war? From the character of pictures we see of late it appears to us this may be true. Now the glory of war is not brought so much to prominence, but rather the sadness and distress it causes are emphasized. Get these latter properly impressed upon the peoples of the world and we are much more likely to have peaceable settlement of differences between nations.

—o—

We've just heard of the fellow who calls his girl "Impromptu"—because she makes up as she goes along.

Notes of Society

Technique of Radio Broadcasting Seen in School Studio

An experience of unusual interest was accorded Mrs. W. J. McCloskey one evening recently when she was permitted to sit inside the broadcasting studio at the National Radio school in Los Angeles during the final review of the artist-students.

Mrs. McCloskey attended the unique performance as the guest of Mrs. Hattie Polcene of Riverside, who is a member of the regular staff of the San Bernardino broadcasting station, KFXM.

Although the public auditorium was filled with several hundred visitors, Mrs. McCloskey was the only "outsider" permitted within the studio where the men and women who have been in training for the past year in the technique of broadcasting, were giving their final performance.

The "tricks of the trade," as resorted to in the broadcasting studio to secure the various sounds heard by the radio public, were an interesting revelation, according to Mrs. McCloskey, and many of them surprisingly simple. For instance, the sound that comes over the air as the roar of an airplane motor was produced by holding a piece of cardboard before a revolving electric fan. The performers all read their parts while standing quietly before the microphone, depending entirely upon intonation and vocal expression for the necessary dramatic effect.

The varying tones used by the speakers, and even the intonation were produced mostly by varying the position before the microphone, Mrs. McCloskey said. To secure certain effects, the speaker turned his head from side to side, retired a few steps or came close to the "mike," sometimes even turning his back squarely upon the instrument or circling to its rear.

All talking was done in surprisingly low voice and all directions were given by hand signals, no other sound being made in the studio except the voices of the performers as they repeated their lines, or the required mechanical sounds.

Miss Freeda Musselman, who makes her home with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Froelich, 385 West Twentieth street, is entertaining guests from San Francisco and many delightful events are being enjoyed.

Late in the evening Mrs. Loch served her guests with tempting refreshments.

The R. W. Doig Family En Route East; Miss Doig to Wed Soon

Leaving Monday night on the Santa Fe, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Doig and their daughter, Miss Margaret Doig, are en route to their former home, Trumansburg, New York, where Mr. and Mrs. Doig expect to make their permanent home.

Some time during July, the exact day not yet announced, Miss Doig will become the bride of Melvin N. Ferguson, of Worcester, N. Y., who is connected with a bank in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Doig and their daughter came to Upland 11 years ago and during that time have become closely identified with the activities of the city, being especially well known in church and school circles.

Miss Doig was a member of the faculty of the Fannie D. Noe school, resigning her position to return east. During the past year she was president of the Upland Business and Professional Women's club and previously had held the office of recording secretary for the club.

During the past several weeks Miss Doig has been the recipient of numerous pre-nuptial courtesies and farewell parties and other farewell parties for Mr. and Mrs. Doig have been given by their friends.

A number of friends gathered at the Santa Fe station to bid them a final farewell last night.

Being deprived of the opportunity to bestow upon the bride and groom the traditional honeymoon trademark at the time of the wedding in July, several friends decided to give the bride-elect the "benefit" of the rice shower. Just as the train pulled in Miss Doig was deluged with rice, much to the amusement of the train crew and passengers, who, however, became somewhat puzzled when they noted the absence of the bridegroom.

Birthday Celebrated at Surprise Party

A secretly planned birthday party was the pleasant surprise accorded Mrs. D. M. Thrash on Saturday, June 24. As she entered the door upon returning to her home at noon she was bewildered for a moment when suddenly showered with birthday greetings by her husband and relatives.

The rooms were prettily decorated with many bouquets of lovely roses and garden flowers, contributions from her husband, who planned the surprise, and from her mother and sisters, who aided in carrying out the plans.

The colors of green and silver were used in the decorations for the table, an inverted green cornucopia with a silver star being suspended from the chandelier and green and silver ribbons radiating to the corners of the table.

A delectable chicken dinner was served, a large candle-lighted birthday cake being a part of the dessert course.

Birthday gifts in which all members of the families were represented were presented, including the dainty offering from the small niece and nephews, prepared and presented by themselves, and telephoned greetings from an absent sister, Mrs. Maude Goyen in San Bernardino.

Participating in the party were the mother, Mrs. S. J. Brooks; the sisters, Mrs. L. O. Bowman and Mrs. James E. Goodban, and Doris, Alan and Dale Goodban, D. M. Thrash and Mrs. Thrash.

NEW RULE WILL BE TRIED AT LIBRARY

Readers Asked to Cooperate in Plan to Equalize Work of Staff

BY THE LIBRARIAN

A suggestion made by a member of the board of trustees of the Upland public library that the adult borrower be limited to one seven-day and two 14-day books hereafter, beside non-fiction, will be tried out beginning July 1. This action was taken at a meeting held recently. The general public has been so obliging in responding to the request in regard to the circulation of fewer magazines to a borrower that the board members feel the patrons will help the library staff as willingly in this later suggestion.

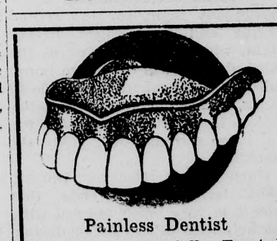

The public has also been most courteous in marking the registration number on the book card. This saves the desk attendant considerable time. But there are two operations with the passing of the book to the borrower on its going out. On its return, two more operations, and the shelving of the book on the truck. Later the page lifts, carries and places the book on the shelf. Nine operations. This process must be gone through for each book leaving the library. Beside this, a book must be looked at to make sure no pencil marks have been made in it, no leaves cut or torn, no picture removed, no dirty finger marks more than usual, no end leaves taken out for note paper, no pocket or card torn or removed, or any other little thing that might happen to a book going into all sorts of homes and being handled by all sorts of people.

It is no wonder then that the library board trustees are trying to save the time and strength of the members of the staff, particularly in the time of "old depression." It looks at the present time as though there might be another downward curve in appropriations for 1934, and that being the case, everyone must put his, or her, hand to or on the book and help.

This past year more money than ever has been put in binding in order to keep the book stock in good condition. Only a certain amount could be spent for books and so it seemed advisable to make the present stock as attractive as possible. This has more than paid for standard authors have been taken from the shelves and read. And aren't they "new" to you as long as you have never read them?

The library is quite in the registration business the past week for the young people are registering for the book club "Young Wings" and also for the Red Cross swimming at Chaffey for the mornings of July 11, 12, 13, 14, 15. So it looks as though the library is trying to look out for the body as well as the brain.

RED HILL LOTS TO GO AT LOW PRICE

30 Parcels Included in Special Offer, With Price To Be Advanced

Red Hill Estates, sub-dividers of the residential property on Red Hill have placed 30 lots on the market at special prices and the offer is such that it is expected to appeal to far-sighted persons desiring a choice, hilltop home site.

The offer is unique in that a purchaser of one lot can get a second lot for $100 and in the offer is also the proposition that if a purchaser will build a house immediately, a lot will be given, thus a person can obtain three lots by buying and building now. This latter feature applies only to the first three deals.

H. F. Naisbitt, active agent for the property, said that much interest is being shown in Red Hill and that when normal times arrive, scores of residences will be on the property. In referring to the special opportunity to buy, Mr. Naisbitt pointed out that if a person acts now, it will mean the purchase of lots at prices far below those when normal conditions return.

In 1929 Red Hill Estates lots were priced to sell at an average price of $2200 and their actual value today is not less than $1500, according to Mr. Naisbitt. Since 1929, about 73 lots have been sold and three fine houses erected. The first house was built by Leonard A. Smith of Garrett & Co., the second one by Martin Derfer, formerly of South Pasadena, and the third one by S. G. Topliff, who moved here from Covina.

Most of the lots have been purchased by Upland and Ontario people, for home sites.

About 145 lots remain in the tract and in order to stimulate real estate business, Mr. Naisbitt and his associates are conducting the "home sites liquidating sale."

The lots have from 70 to 80 feet frontage. Taxes on each last year averaged $2.73 a lot. The price includes all necessary improvements. Water is supplied by the Estates Water Co., Ltd., a public utility, with pressure of 65 pounds.

Certain building restrictions have been placed on the property to protect it always for only homes, that is no business will be permitted. Price does not enter into the building restrictions, but the type of architecture must be of Spanish Californian or Mediterranean and plans and specifications must be passed on by an architectural committee. The committee is to give first consideration to the architectural design of the house in order to create beauty and harmony throughout the tract.

On the committee at present are Leonard A. Smith, Ted C. Combs and Thomas R. Cummins.

Mr. Naisbitt pointed out that when the 30 lots are sold, no more will be offered at the special sale price, the general price level being advanced immediately to approximately $1500.

New Book Reviews and News of Activities at Public Library

Since books play such an important part in present day life it is hard to believe that at one time the White House had no books whatever, and that less than a hundred years ago!

Mary Abagail Fillmore, whose father, Millard Fillmore, was sworn in as president on July 9th, 1850, to complete the term of office of Zachary Taylor, was instrumental in having a library installed. Mary Abigail was ambitious and insisted on taking a course at a normal school to fit herself to earn an independent living. Evidently Mary Abigail must have set folks talking!

After teaching awhile Miss Fillmore had to give up her career to become mistress of the White House. Her mother was an invalid and unable to preside in the White House. Mary Abigail "promptly induced Congress to install a library, the mansion having been until then a bookless desert."

Possibly thinking that Mary Abigail's library might have been worn out, or lost, or strayed or stolen by this time, the American Booksellers' Association a few years ago compiled a list of 500 books of fiction, including contemporary and detective fiction, biography, travel, poetry, drama, science, art and philosophy and some juvenile, so that visiting children might have something to read. A committee of ten, including Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, was authorized to select the books and start a permanent collection. This list was widely published and the Upland library has a list on file if anyone should desire to see it. Anyway Mary Abigail did start something!

It is of interest to note that the list does not include "Looking Backward," by Bellamy, nor was it selected late enough to include "Looking Forward," by Roosevelt.

What - Where - Why of Girls' Organizations

Camp Conifer Closes

The Camp Conifer camp for girls of the Chaffey communities was closed Sunday and all of the girls and their leaders have returned to their homes.

Although the attendance was somewhat less than in former years, still there were well over 100 girls in the camp during the two weeks, several of them remaining for the entire time, and the expert operation of the camp and the many beneficial activities provided for the girls, made it one of the most successful camps yet held at the girls' popular play ground.

Miss Ruth Randall, general secretary of the Chaffey Community Girls Organizations, was director of the camp and had the assistance of a number of able leaders and the cooperation of all of the executive board members.

This closes the Chaffey Community girls activities for the summer and Miss Randall will spend the next two months directing girls camps at Big Pines.

Asilomar News

Six girls from the Y. W. C. A. have gone to Asilomar to attend the annual 10-days summer conference. The girls are the Misses Ada Leeke, Helen Jones, Gertrude Smith, Dorothy Donahue, Helen Roe and Wilma Sanborn. Mrs. Kenneth I. Hanson, vice-president of the Chaffey Community Girls Organizations, also is attending the Asilomar conference.

A number of West End people, including Wiley W. Mather, went to Pomona Sunday and heard a remarkable address on Hitlerism by Dr. John Haynes Holmes, famous minister of New York, who spoke in the Pomona Unitarian church.

FRUIT REGULATION HELPING GROWERS

Citrus Pro-Rating Plan Is Stabilizing Market, Exchange Head Says

Only with a high degree of grower cooperation can these fundamental plans succeed. It is your business and your responsibility. Packing house managers have increased problems and difficult adjustments to make. Tolerance and a sympathetic attitude are needed if progress is to continue."

There never was a time when a united citrus industry was more important than now, according to the Exchange head. "Every problem that faces us is incapable of individual solution," said he. "Only by cooperation can we accomplish anything on freight rates, tariffs, competition with Florida, with tomato juice and pineapple juice. The individual grower, or even small groups of growers, are powerless to influence any of these problems."

Mr. Armstrong outlined the fundamentals that the Exchange believes are vital to increased net returns to growers and to maintain a prosperous industry. These are: Increasing consumer demand through advertising, regulation of supply to demand, proper distribution of shipments among markets, elimination of competitive price-cutting by competing marketing agencies, elimination of surplus fruit including least valuable grades and sizes from fresh fruit trade, and standardization of quality as a basis of consumer and trade confidence.

VETERAN NINES TO BATTLE FOR LEAD

Growers, Merchants Meet in THE Game of First Round Tonight

Tonight's game will be THE game in the first round of the Upland night league with the Upland Merchants and the Upland Lemon Growers battling it out for supremacy.

Both each team well supplied with pitchers and each team well prepared to handle any fielding or batting situation, the veteran stars will present an all-star ball program. Both teams have won two games so far. Next Tuesday the second round will begin.

Upland Merchants were handed a victory Friday night by Etiwanda representatives, a husky, good-natured youth from Pomona by the name of Kling being the outstanding player, to the tune of 15 points in three innings. Kling opened in the box as a substitute for Sylvanus R. Kemp, injured recently. But Manager Al Utman would have done better to stay at home for his substitute twirlers.

Floyd Wattenberger was called in from right field after the third to turn a pitiful situation into something like a ball game. The final score was 20 to 7. By figures, it can be deducted that had "Watty" been called on at the start of the game, the nine innings might have been a ball game.

The Growers began in the first inning to count with six tallies. In the second, Kling allowed no scores, and in the third every Merchant player scored, to make the lucky board read 15 to 2. At this point Wattenberger began.

The first ballet will be presented on Saturday, July 15, when Fanchon and Marco, nationally known stage producers, will offer a colorful spectacle.

MANY ARTISTS TO APPEAR IN COURSE

Annual Presentation of Stars at Claremont Planned for 1933-34

Dates for the Claremont Colleges artist course programs next season have been announced this week by the committee on auditorium events.

Lucrezia Bori, noted soprano and leading prima donna of the Metropolitan Opera company, will open the course on November 3.

Nelson Eddy, baritone, will appear on November 27; Jose Iturbi, pianist, on December 12; Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra, February 27; Harald Kreutzberg and Ruth Page, April 3; Tito Schipa, Italian tenor, April 20.

In the sale of season tickets in all communities outside of Claremont, the effective cooperation of Pomona Ebell club is again being given through Mrs. Elsbery Reynolds and a special committee. Last year the Ebell club withdrew its support of a Lyceum course in Pomona and centered its cultural sponsorship upon the Claremont Colleges course, cooperating in the sale of tickets and in many other ways.

Despite the extraordinary character of the 1933-34 series, no advance is being made in the prices of season tickets, and there will be no admission tax unless through unforeseen legislative change.

Season ticket holders of last year may retain their previous locations.
